Bulletin: 2025 – April 15, 2026

Rule Update for 2026 – Pro Stock Rear Spoiler Update.

20.7.2 – Rear Spoiler

- A. A single rear spoiler mounted on the top, at the rear of the deck lid/trunk will be permitted.
- B. The rear spoiler must be a one-piece aluminum or two-piece (split in the center vertically with both pieces same angle) lexan spoiler with a maximum height of 5"-inches. The spoiler must not exceed 5" in total length (of material) no matter what the angle of the spoiler. Five inches (5") is the maximum length with no tolerance. Spoiler must also be the same height above rear deck from left to right.
- C. The spoiler must follow the contour of the body and may not extend out past the maximum body width and must not extend past the trunk lid. Spoiler must be straight with no bends (GUERNEY LIP).
- D. Two (2) vertical support(s) fin-type mounted in front of the spoiler will be permitted. These supports may not exceed the maximum height of the spoiler and are limited to 16"-inches in length and must be symmetrical left to right.
